Atheist Lawsuit Threat

Last week an atheist officially notified us that if we continued to sell our "National Atheist Day" bumper sticker he would file a lawsuit. The grounds of the suit would be that he could not seek public office because we have publicly said that he is a fool by quoting Psalm 14:1: "The fool has said in his heart, There is no God." We contacted our lawyers at the Alliance Defense Fund, and they informed us that the claim for libel is patently absurd. After he had heard from our attorneys, the atheist was quick to assure us that he completely changed his mind about pursuing a lawsuit. This is still the land of the free and the home of those brave enough to stand up for the truth. We still also have the books, How to Know God Exists and God Doesn't Believe in Atheists. Buy them both for the special price of \$15, and we will throw in a free National Atheist Day bumper sticker.

Fireproof the Movie - Our Reviews

Several members of our ministry staff went to a sneak preview of Kirk's new movie Fireproof (premiers September 26). The consensus was universal... this movie is a slam-dunk! Please visit www.fireproofthemovie.com to learn how you can support the movie in your community.

"Fireproof isn't just a wonderful, entertaining, heartwarming, life-changing tear-jerker. It presents a powerful and clear God-honoring gospel message that will make you want to shout for joy. Kirk Cameron's performance is stunning."

Ray Comfort

"Simply put, Fireproof is a life changer! It powerfully and creatively delivers a timely message to a generation that desperately needs it. It is one of the most inspirational movies I have every seen. I can hardly wait to take my friends to see it!"

Emeal "E.Z." Zwayne

Executive Vice President, Living Waters

"I loved this movie for the sole reason that it was a breath of fresh air in the midst of the normal Hollywood smog. I've seldom witnessed audiences participating in a film as much as this one. There was crying, laughing, and cheering from the crowd. I have to say, that in an age of super budgeted feature films where most come and go in a couple of weeks after tanking, 'Fireproof' outshines and out classes them with this heartfelt homerun."

Ray and the Angry Lady During the July Ambassadors' Academy

We were in Hollywood just days ago with the Ambassador's Academy, when I heard a woman screaming at the top of her voice at one of the students. He had merely offered her a gospel tract and she was spitting sparks. As she crossed the street I switched on my hand-held camera and followed her. I am always interested in why people are that angry at God.

The woman was pushing a shopping cart that was full of plastic bottles. She was probably in her early seventies and looked like an aged Katherine Hepburn. I came alongside her and asked her why she was so angry at God. It turned out that she was also angry at the world.

I asked if I could buy her lunch. She ignored me.

She said, "I am just fed up! I am fed up with being pushed around." She spat out "Why did God allow the Nazi holocaust!" I explained that Hitler, not God caused the slaughter of the Jews, and that happened because of the evil heart of mankind. I said that I didn't know why God allows certain things, but that we all have sin in our hearts and we need His mercy. That didn't help much, and she was still fuming as she took plastic bottles out of the trash.

I asked for her name and again offered to buy her lunch. She ignored the offer and didn't want to tell me her name. Suddenly she spotted the camera and told me to turn it off.

I then said that life has dealt all of us a hand of suffering, and we can either get angry and let bitterness destroy us, or we can overcome it with trust in God.

"If anyone has a right to be bitter at God, it's my son-in-law (EZ had just joined us). His own mother died in his arms of cancer." EZ shared his experience and said that he loved the Lord, and wasn't bitter. She began to weep, so I hugged her and gave her some money for lunch.

She then smiled and told me to turn the camera back on and gave us permission to use the footage in our third season of our TV program.

We further explained the gospel, gave her some literature, and prayed with her. God only knows what she has been through in the past that made her so bitter, but He also knows her future -- and if she repents and trusts in the Savior, her future will be sweet. Please pray for Earla.

There are still openings for the Ambassador's Academy in September and October, with no more Academy's until Spring of 2009. So please APPLY NOW if you want to be involved.

America Special

We are also having a special on the "America, America" tract. It normally retails for $8 per 100. We are making them available for only $3 per 100, as long as stocks last. This tract is extremely relevant to what's happening in our nation at the moment.

The Anti-Open-Air Interview

Ray had a spirited interview with a Christian talk show host that had some pretty strong objections to open air preaching. You can listen to it online.

One-Year-Old Evangelist

Received as an email from Brian D., Wisconsin

A handyman showed up at our house for a repair. He was carrying a Goliath-sized toolbox and said that kids and animals are his biggest fans. The statement proved true as his toolbox immediately intrigued our one-year old son, Sam, who trotted up with a smile -- and more. Sam was holding the children's book "Jesus is Coming Back" and with his usual grunts, beckoned the handyman to read it. He looked at the book and said, "Jesus is coming back ... is he?" That opened the door for my wife to share the Gospel with one of our favorite Living Waters tracts. As the handyman was leaving, she thanked him and said "keep up the good work" while handing him a giant money tract. He graciously took it.
